

COURAGE

STRENGTH IN THE FACE OF FEAR, PAIN,
OR DIFFICULTY

We hold these truths to
be self-evident,
that all men
and women are created equal.”

ELIZABETH CADY STANTON

Be courageous like Elizabeth Cady Stanton. Born in 1815, Elizabeth Cady Stanton believed in justice and equality for all. She was a leader in the abolitionist movement and defended her right to be included in antislavery conversations as a woman. For most of her life, she fought for women's right to vote, founding the National Women Suffrage Association. While she died before her dream came to pass, we owe more just and fair voting laws in part to her work.
